Border Trade Be Opened Again

Arunachal MLA pitches for revival of border trades with SE Asian countries

ITANAGAR: Newly elected Nationalist Congress Party (Ajit Pawar) MLA Toko Tatung on Friday requested the Arunachal Pradesh government to propose to the Centre to resume border trade with neighbouring South East Asian nations for the state's economic development.

Participating in the motion of thanks to the governor's address delivered in the House on June 15, Tatung highlighted the potential benefits of reopening border trade, particularly for a resource-limited state like Arunachal Pradesh. He cited the example of India-China bilateral trade, which has surpassed 100 billion dollars, and emphasised the need to revive trade with China, Myanmar, and Bhutan in alignment with the Centre's Act East Policy. “We should move a proposal to the central government requesting it to revive border trade with Myanmar through Pangsau Pass. If border trade is re-opened, it will be beneficial for a resource-crunch state like Arunachal Pradesh,” he said. Historically, trade between India and Myanmar had existed before Independence on a small scale. On September 26, 1950, the two countries signed an agreement, exempting indigenous hill tribes within 40 km of the border from passport requirements for trade purposes. PTI

no case for review of the order dated May 17, 2024 is made out. The review petition is, accordingly, dismissed," the bench said. The top court was hearing a plea filed by Agnostos Theos, the Managing Director of the Sikh

"From the VVPAT slips and data in EVMs, the (presiding) officer can identify which voter cast his vote for which party," he had claimed.

On April 26, terming the suspicion over manipulation of the EVMs as "unfounded", the top court had rejected the demand for reverting to the old paper ballot system. It had held that the polling devices were "secure" and eliminate booth capturing and bogus voting.

'Rahul 'blackmailed' voters with fake narrative'

Press Trust Of India

AHMEDABAD: Union Minister Ramdas Athawale on Friday said Congress leader Rahul Gandhi "blackmailed" voters by creating a fake narrative that the BJP would change the Constitution if it won 400 Lok Sabha seats, leading to losses to the ruling party in several states.

Modi emerged victorious and the BJP-led National Democratic Alliance got a clear majority with 292 seats.

- even after its military defeat in May, 2009 in Sri Lanka, LTTE has not abandoned the concept of 'Eelam' and has been clandestinely working towards the 'Eelam' cause by undertaking fund raising and propaganda activities and the remnant LTTE leaders or cadres have also initiated efforts to regroup the scattered activists and resurrect the outfit locally and internationally;

SC to hear plea against HC order on removal of protesters

In May this year, the apex court had stayed the operation of the April 9 order of the high court while hearing a separate petition.

Press Trust Of India

NEW DELHI: The Supreme Court on Friday agreed to hear a plea challenging an order of the Punjab and Haryana High Court which asked the authorities to clear the Chandigarh-Mohali road of protesters.

On Friday, a bench of Justices B R Gavai, K V Viswanathan and N Kotiswar Singh sought responses from an NGO, on whose petition the high court had passed the order, and others on the fresh plea.

It tagged the plea with a pending petition raising the same issue.

In its April 9 order, the high court had said despite repeated opportunities given, neither the state of Punjab nor the Union territory of Chandigarh has been able to redress the grievances of the commuters of Chandigarh and SAS Nagar in Mohali.

“Only on account of the fact that some of the protestors have been hiding behind a shield of religious legitimacy by placing the Guru Granth Sahib would not as such give the State reason not to act against the persons concerned, who are mis-using the religious sentiments,” the high court had said. It had passed the order on a plea by an NGO which contended that local residents and commuters were facing unnecessary harassment because of the protest on the Chandigarh-Mohali road that has been going on since February 2023.

The fresh plea, filed in the apex court by ‘Kaumi Insaf Morcha’, said it has been leading a non-violent and peaceful protest for over a year and half there. The plea, filed through advocate Satya Mitra, has claimed that the high court had “erroneously ordered the forcible removal of protestors from the site, despite the state government’s affidavit to the court indicating that the protestors had not disrupted traffic and that traffic flow around YPS Chowk was normal.”

Pendency of large number of cheque bounce cases a serious concern: SC

NEW DELHI: Expressing “serious concern” over pendency of a large number of cheque bounce cases, the Supreme Court has said courts should encourage compounding of offences under the Negotiable Instruments Act if parties are willing to reach a compromise.

A bench of Justices Sudhanshu Dhulia and Ahsanuddin Amanullah set aside the conviction of a man named P Kumarasamy in a cheque bounce case, after noting that the parties have entered into a settlement agreement and Rs 5.25 lakh has been paid to the complainant.

“A large number of cases involving dishonour of cheques are pending before courts which is a serious concern for our judicial system. Keeping in mind that the ‘compensatory aspect’ of remedy shall have priority over the ‘punitive aspect’, courts should encourage compounding of offences under the NI Act if parties are willing to do so,” the bench said in its July 11 order.

The bench said it has to be remembered that

Rubbing salt into wounds of youth by telling ‘lies’: Kharge

Press Trust Of India

In a post on ‘X’, Kharge said, “Narendra Modi ji, By telling one lie after another on jobs, you are rubbing salt into the wounds of the youth!”

NEW DELHI: Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge hit out at Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday over his remark that eight crore new jobs have been created, and accused him of “rubbing salt into the wounds” of the youth by “telling one lie after another”.

His attack comes after Prime Minister Modi emphasised last week that the creation of eight crore new jobs in the last three to four years has “silenced” those spreading fake narratives about unemployment.

Quoting a recent report of the Reserve Bank of India on employment, the prime minister had asserted that the National Democratic Alliance (NDA) government prioritised stability and growth, and added that small and big investors welcomed the NDA’s third term with enthusiasm.

“That is why we want to ask you three questions regarding the questionable data of the RBI -- Why is it that you promised 20 crore jobs in 10 years, but took away more than 12 crore jobs?”

Is it not true that according to the government PLFS data, the source of the RBI report, 37 per cent of working women are unpaid, Kharge added.

In rural areas, this figure is at a horrifying level of 43 per cent, he said.

“Is it not true that according to the government’s own Annual Survey of Unincorporated Sector Enterprises (ASUSE), the informal manufacturing sector lost 54 lakh jobs in seven years due to the triple impact of demonetisation, flawed GST and Covid-19,” the Congress leader asked.

Balancing local preferences with economic realities

In a move that has ignited widespread debate, the Karnataka Government has temporarily shelved its proposed reservation Bill for Kannadigas in private firms following intense backlash from business and industry leaders. The Karnataka State Employment of Local Candidates in the Industries, Factories and Other Establishments Bill, 2024, which aimed to mandate significant local hiring quotas, has faced criticism for its potential economic repercussions. The Bill, initially approved by the state cabinet, sought to ensure that 50 percent of management roles and 70 percent of non-management roles in private establishments were filled by local candidates. This proposal, while well-intentioned in promoting local employment, has been met with considerable opposition. Prominent organizations, including NASSCOM, have warned that such restrictions could drive businesses to relocate, exacerbating the scarcity of skilled local talent. Karnataka, renowned as India's technological hub and a beacon of economic progress, risks undermining its business-friendly reputation with such regressive legislation. The state's attempt to follow in the footsteps of Haryana, which faced judicial rejection of a similar law, highlights a recurring issue across various states. Andhra Pradesh and Jharkhand have also experienced setbacks with comparable mandates, illustrating the broader challenge of balancing local employment goals with the realities of a globalized economy. While the notion of promoting local employment has gained traction, especially under the 'vocal for local' campaign, the potential adverse effects on merit and skill-based hiring cannot be ignored. In the fiercely competitive landscape of state-level economic development, policies perceived as protectionist may deter investment and innovation. The swift response from Andhra Pradesh, inviting businesses to relocate to Vizag, underscores the high stakes involved. For Karnataka, a prudent approach would be to reconsider the Bill and engage in more comprehensive discussions with all stakeholders. Ensuring that local aspirations are met without compromising the state's economic dynamism is crucial.

AP and Telangana Chiefs address bifurcation issues

An exoplanet, LHS-1140b, located 50 light years from Earth, could be habitable, rich in potential liquid water. The James Webb Space Telescope discovered this planet has a sea of solid ice resembling an eye's pupil. First identified in 2017, LHS-1140b was thought to be a "mini-Nep-tune" with water, methane, and ammonia, but new findings suggest it's icier and wetter than previously believed, potentially supporting life. Charles Cadieu from the University of Montreal claims LHS-1140b offers a prime opportunity to confirm liquid water beyond our solar system. Using the James Webb Telescope's Near-Infrared Imager and Slitless Spectrograph, researchers detected nitrogen, a key atmospheric component, indicating the planet is not dense or rocky but mostly ice-covered. Surface temperatures in some areas can reach 20 degrees Celsius, creating habitable conditions for marine life. Confirming an Earth-like atmosphere will take extensive observations, requiring at least another year to validate the nitrogen presence and potentially two to three years for carbon dioxide detection.

Production-Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme: India Wants More

Launched by the Government of India in 2020, the Production-Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme aims to enhance the country's manufacturing capabilities and boost exports by offering financial incentives to companies based on incremental sales of goods manufactured in India. Integral to India's Atmanirbhar Bharat mission, the scheme focuses on reducing import dependence and strengthening domestic production capabilities. With an incentive outlay of Rs 1.97 lakh crore, the scheme covers 14 key sectors, including electronics, pharmaceuticals, food processing, and telecom products.

By November 2023, the PLI scheme had attracted investments exceeding Rs 1.03 lakh crore, resulting in production and sales worth Rs 8.61 lakh crore and generating employment for over 6.78 lakh individuals. Exports under the PLI scheme reached Rs 3.2 lakh crore, significantly impacting India's trade balance. Notable growth was observed in sectors such as electronics, phar-maceuticals, telecom, and food processing. For example, local manufacturing of smartphones increased by 5%, and imports of plastic parts and camera lenses declined by 33% in FY24. Pharmaceuticals saw exports rise by 9.67% YoY to USD 27.9 billion in FY24, along with a 4.54% reduction in imports of bulk drugs. The telecom sector achieved a 60% import substitution, with a 370% increase in sales of telecom products by PLI beneficiaries. The food processing sector boosted organic product exports, creating 2.37 lakh jobs by September 2023.

Despite its successes, the PLI scheme faces several challenges. Operational glitches, such as land acquisition issues and procedural delays, have hindered smooth implementation. Ensuring companies meet production and investment targets while maintaining transparency and accountability remains a challenge. Infrastructure development in some regions is slow, and integrating into global supply chains poses hurdles due to quality-related rejections in international markets. A shortage of skilled labor in several sectors also impacts production quality and efficiency.

To address these issues and build on the PLI scheme's successes, the Budget 2024 should focus on:

- * Expansion of the PLI scheme to labor-intensive sectors like apparel, toys, and footwear, stimulating job creation and boosting export earnings.

- * Increased funding allocation to Rs 3 trillion over the next five years, covering up to 20 sectors, broadening India's manufacturing base, and facilitating deeper integration into global supply chains.

- * Incentives for setting up industrial units in eastern states to promote balanced regional industrialization, preventing concentration of industrial growth in certain areas.

- * Linking eligibility criteria for PLI benefits to skilling initiatives and hiring targets, ensuring inclusive job creation and improving employment quality.

- * Improving operational processes for foreign investors by streamlining procedures for land acquisition, utility connections, and clarifying qualification criteria, attracting more foreign direct investment.

- * Enhanced focus on R&D and sustainable practices, with increased incentives and support for research and development, particularly in sectors like battery manufacturing and recycling, supporting startups and innovations in sustainable mobility and recycling.

Robust monitoring mechanisms and continuous enhancements in infrastructure and workforce skills are crucial for the scheme's sustained success. Addressing these demands will help achieve broader national goals of enhancing India's manufacturing capabilities, reducing import dependency, and elevating India's position in the global manufacturing sector. The continued success of the PLI scheme will be vital in driving India's economic transformation and positioning it as a key player in the global market.

Revolutionizing cobra bite treatment with old drug

Snakebites cause significant harm worldwide. Research reveals century-old blood-thinners may revolutionize treatment, especially for cobra venom injuries. by Tian Du and Greg Neely

Each year, approximately 1.8 million people worldwide are bitten by snakes, resulting in up to 138,000 deaths and 400,000 cases of permanent scarring and disability. Many cobras possess tissue-damaging venoms that current antivenoms cannot effectively treat. However, recent research suggests that inexpensive, widely available blood-thinning medications could be repurposed as antidotes for these venoms.

Utilizing CRISPR gene-editing technology, researchers have gained new insights into how these venoms attack cells. They discovered that a class of drugs called heparinoids can protect tissue from venom damage. This groundbreaking research, published in Science Translational Medicine, has the potential to revolutionize the treatment of cobra bites.

Snake venoms consist of various compounds that generally target the heart, nervous system, or local tissue at the site of exposure. While most research focuses on the deadliest venoms, less lethal but still harmful venoms, such as those from cobras, have received less attention. In regions where cobras are prevalent, serious snakebites can lead to life-altering injuries, including amputations, which can devastate individuals' livelihoods. The World Health Organization has recognized snakebite as a "Category A" neglected tropical disease and aims to halve the burden of snakebites by 2030.

Currently, the only treatment for snakebites is antivenoms. These are produced by exposing non-human animals to small amounts of venom and harvesting the antibodies they produce. Although antivenoms can save lives, they have significant limitations. Each antivenom is specific to one or more snake species, making them prohibitively expensive and often unavailable. They require cold storage and must be administered via injection in a hospital. Additionally, antivenoms cannot prevent local tissue damage because the antibodies are too large to reach peripheral tissues, such as limbs.

A research team from the University of Sydney, the Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine, and Instituto Clodomiro Picado in Costa Rica sought alternative treatments for snakebites. They began by studying cobra venoms, specifically those from the African spitting cobra, known for causing tissue damage. Using a whole genome CRISPR screen, they disabled different genes in human cells and exposed these cells to the venom to identify which genes were necessary for the venom to inflict damage. The researchers discovered that certain enzymes required by cobra venoms to kill human cells are responsible for producing long sugar molecules called heparan and heparin sulfate. These molecules, found on the surface of human and animal cells, play a crucial role in the immune response. Snake venoms have evolved to exploit these molecules, causing tissue damage.

Heparin, a blood-thinning medication used for nearly 100 years, was tested on human cells to see if it could act as a decoy target for the venom. Remarkably, the venom no longer caused cell death when heparin was added, even after the venom had been introduced. This protective effect was also observed with venoms from distantly related

Asian cobras. Further testing showed that injecting a smaller synthetic version of heparin, called tinzaparin, reduced tissue damage in mice with an artificial "snakebite."

The research team identified that heparin inhibits "cytotoxic three-finger toxins," which are a major cause of tissue injury. Until now, no drugs were known to counteract these toxins. The next step is to test heparin's effects in humans. The ultimate goal is to develop a snakebite treatment device containing heparinoid drugs, similar to the EpiPen adrenaline injectors used for severe allergic reactions. These devices could be distributed to individuals at high risk of cobra bites. Heparinoids are already approved by the US Food and Drug Administration and are stable at room temperature, making them more accessible in remote regions.

Other studies have confirmed the potential of repurposing drugs for snakebite treatment, signaling a new era where treatments do not solely rely on costly antivenoms. The researchers' technique, which has previously been used to investigate other venoms such as those from box jellyfish, is uncovering valuable information that could lead to the development of universal and broad-acting venom antidotes.

BJP faces tough bypolls

The BJP has found itself in a precarious position in Uttar Pradesh, the most crucial state in political and electoral terms. Internal conflicts and overconfidence have significantly damaged the party's prospects. Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath's failure to unite the party has been a major setback, leading to a drastic reduction in seats—from 62 in 2019 to just 33. Meanwhile, the Samajwadi Party-Congress alliance gained 43 seats. With 10 Assembly seats up for bypolls in the coming months, the BJP must urgently address its issues to prevent further losses.

Middle class deserves better

The Full Budget must prioritize sustainable and inclusive development while addressing critical issues like unemployment and inflation. Millions compete for limited job opportunities, highlighting the need for increased investment in industry and infrastructure to create jobs. Education reform is crucial to align student skills with industry needs. Additionally, the middle class, which has long faced challenges, requires relief. Controlling inflation would provide much-needed support to this vital segment of society.

The global Microsoft outage led to flight cancellations and long queues of people outside airports and at check-in counters across the country. Services like bookings, check-in and boarding process including issuance of boarding passes, are being carried out manually, thereby taking longer than expected

No plans to allow business houses to promote banks: Das

Allowing corporate houses to promote banks exposes one to conflict of interest risks and related -party transactions

MUMBAI: Governor Shaktikanta Das on Friday said the Reserve Bank does not have any plan to allow business houses to promote banks at present. Allowing corporate houses to promote banks exposes one to conflict of interest risks and related -party transactions, Das said, speaking at an event organized by the Financial Express here. "At this point, there is no thinking in that direction," Das said, replying to a specific query on whether there is any consideration to allow business houses. The RBI had disqual-speaking about the time before bank nationalization in the late 1960s. "Experience world over has shown that it will be very difficult to monitor or to regulate and prevent related-party transactions. The risks involved are very high," Das said. He said, while the economy needs the resources to grow, we do not necessarily require more banks to achieve the aspirations. "What India needs is not proliferation in the number of banks, India needs sound banks, healthy banks, well governed banks which we feel will be able to mobilize savings throughout the country through technology and meet the credit requirements," he said. Markets tumble after four days of record rally amid profit-taking, global sell-off

MUMBAI: Equity benchmark indices Sensex and Nifty tumbled on Friday as investors rushed to book profits after four days of record-breaking rally and the global sell-off triggered by an IT outage that caused devices to crash globally. Fall in blue-chip Reliance Industries also dragged the benchmarks lower.

The 30-share BSE Sensex hit its new all-time high of 81,587.76 in the initial trade but failed to carry forward the winning momentum and tanked 738.81 points or 0.91 per cent to settle below the 81,000-mark at 80,604.65. The NSE Nifty tumbled 269.95 points or 1.09 per cent and ended at 24,530.90 after hitting its fresh record peak of 24,854.80 during the opening bell. During the day, it declined 292.7 points or 1.18 per cent to 24,508.15.

"The domestic market closed today with a downturn due to the global sell-off, triggered by operating system issues that caused devices to crash worldwide. The global IT outage has led to disruptions in various Indian industries. The overvalued market is also experiencing profit booking ahead of the budget next week," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Financial Services. Microsoft users globally reported massive outages in services on Friday, with outage tracking website Downtdetector showing users flagging disruptions across various services.

After the first-round exit from Tokyo Olympics, Panghal lost his spot in the team on the basis of Boxing Federation of India's evaluation system, which was drafted by then High Performance Director Bernard Dunne.

"Amit is in a strong place now because he has made a comeback and seen the tough times in the past few years," Akhil told PTI on the sidelines of a panel discussion on India's Olympic prospects hosted by the Delhi Sports Journalists Association in collaboration with the Sports Authority of India.

The snubs severely dented Panghal's confidence and made him question his abilities.

stan to 26 for 2 after the fourth over.

The Indians didn't allow Pakistani batters to settle down as off-spinner Shyreyanka Patil (2/14) packed off Aliya Riaz, caught by Rodrigues at mid-wicket.

The Pakistani batters struggled to score runs, let alone building partnerships as Indian bowlers continued to pick up wickets at regular intervals to derail their opponents.

The next to depart was Pakistan skipper Nida Dar who was holed out to Dayalan Hemalatha at long-on off the bowling of Deepti as the batter went for her customary huge heave over the straight boundary.

It was raining wickets for India as pacer Renuka Singh (2/14) struck twice in the last two deliveries of her spell.

Renuka first accounted for Sidra Amin (25) and then trapped Iram Javed leg before in the next ball to reduce Pakistan to 61 for 6 in 13 overs.

Thereafter Tuba Hassan (22) and Fatima Sana (22 not out) stitched together a valuable 31-run stand for the seventh wicket to take Pakistan forward.

But their partnership finally came to an end in the 18th over when Hassan was caught by Radha Yadav at backward point off Deepti.

The 18th over bowled by Deepti saw three dismissals -- Hassan, Syeda Aroob Shah and Nashra Sandhu.

While Hassan and Sandhu fell to Deepti, Shah was run out, denying the India spinner a hat-trick chance.

Khadka, Barma sparkle as Nepal beat UAE

Press Trust Of India

DAMBULLA: In an impressive display of cricket, Nepal defeated the UAE by six wickets to begin their campaign in the Women's T20 Asia Cup on a high note. The match took place in Dambulla, where Nepal's opener, Samjhana Khadka, delivered a stellar performance with the bat, scoring an unbeaten 71 off just 45 balls, including 11 boundaries. Her aggressive and confident batting helped Nepal chase down the target of 116 in just 16.1 overs.

The UAE, batting first, struggled against the disciplined bowling attack of Nepal. Despite a fighting 36 from Khushi Sharma and a supportive 22 from Kavisha Egodage, the UAE could only manage 115 for eight in their 20 overs. Indu Barma was the stand-out bowler for Nepal, taking three crucial wickets for just 19 runs, putting the UAE on the back foot early in the innings.

UAE's innings started poorly, losing three wickets within the Power Play, leaving them at 38 for three. Khushi Sharma and Kavisha Egodage tried to stabilize the innings but consumed too many deliveries in the process, hindering the team's momentum. None of the other UAE batters could capitalize on their starts, and they kept losing wickets at regular intervals due to some accurate and disciplined bowling from the Nepalese bowlers.

This comprehensive win marks a strong start for Nepal in the Women's T20 Asia Cup, showcasing their potential and determination to perform on bigger stages.

Hardik Pandya's future with Mumbai Indians uncertain

Press Trust Of India

Pandya faces competition from Suryakumar Yadav and Rohit Sharma for MI's top leadership role.

NEW DELHI: He left the Caribbean basking in the glory of his success in India's triumphant march to their first ICC tournament title in 11 years. However, in a mere three weeks, Hardik Pandya's world has turned upside down.

Elite sport can be ruthless and Pandya found that out when he was pipped by Suryakumar Yadav for the post of captain of the Indian T20 side for the upcoming tour of Sri Lanka while battling problems on personal front.

The vote of 'no confidence' in his leadership ability was so emphatic and in your face that it has left the flamboyant all-rounder facing another big question thanks to one of the most dramatic twists in Indian cricket.

Will Mumbai Indians, the franchise with the deepest pocket and biggest say in the IPL Universe, be ready to give one more year to their current preferred leader Pandya, who replaced their most popular captain (Rohit Sharma) in acrimonious circumstances last year?

By leading the team to the T20 World Cup title, Rohit has elevated himself to a position which is second only to Mahendra Singh Dhoni in Indian cricket, barely five months after being dumped by his IPL franchise.

Play fearlessly: Ashok Dhyanchand

NEW DELHI: The Indian hockey team has been handed an unenviable draw at the Paris Olympics and the legendary Ashok Dhyanchand reckons that the players will have to play "fearlessly" and "without pre-conceived notions" to negotiate the challenge.

India had clinched a bronze medal at the Tokyo Olympics in 2021 under Manpreet Singh to break a nearly four-decade-long jinx. There are huge expectations from Harmanpreet and Co. to achieve success in Paris. But India's performance over the last few months, especially against Australia and in the Pro League, has become the talking point as the team heads into the Games, commencing in less than a week's time.

KARACHI: Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) is unlikely to allow senior players Babar Azam, Muhammad Rizwan and Shaheen Shah Afridi to play in the upcoming Global T20 Canadian League, citing a busy international calendar. The PCB chairman Mohsin Naqvi held discussions with coaches Jason Gillespie and Gary Kirsten, who were also not in favour of allowing these players to participate in the GT20, informed a reliable source in the board.

That these three cricketers play in all formats of the sport too influenced the board's decision, said the source.

"The board has allowed NOCs to some of those players who are not all format players like Shadab Khan to play in some leagues.

"But since Babar, Shaheen and Rizwan play in all formats the case is different for them," the source said.

TRIAL
Russia seeks 18-year sentence for US reporter on trial for spying

YEKATERINBURG: Russian prosecutors sought a prison sentence of 18 years on Friday for Wall Street Journal reporter Evan Gershkovich, who is on trial on espionage charges that his employer and the US have denounced as fabricated. Gershkovich, 32, was arrested March 29, 2023, while on a reporting trip to the Ural Mountains city of Yekaterinburg. Authorities claimed, without offering any evidence, that he was gathering secret information for the US. He pleaded not guilty, according to the court, and The Wall Street Journal and the US government have called the trial a sham. Gershkovich appeared in court for a second straight day Friday as the closed-door proceedings in Russia's highly politicized legal system picked up speed. A verdict is expected later in the day, according to court officials.

DHAKA: Police and security officials in Bangladesh fired bullets and tear gas at protesters and banned all gatherings in the capital on Friday, as internet and mobile services were cut off after days of deadly clashes over the allocation of government jobs. Some of Kyiv's allies are reluctant to let Ukraine use their weapons to strike Russian territory because of concerns that the West could be drawn into direct conflict with Russia. The British government has said it's up to Ukraine how to use missiles supplied by the UK, as long as international law is upheld. Drone strike hits Tel Aviv, killing 1, injured 10

Press Trust Of India

TEL AVIV: A large explosion rumbled through the streets of central Tel Aviv early Friday morning after an apparent drone strike caused shards of shrapnel to rain down, injuring at least 10 people and leaving one dead, authorities said. Yemen's Houthi rebels claimed responsibility for the attack. The Houthis have launched drones and missiles toward Israel throughout the Israel-Hamas war, in solidarity with the Palestinian people and against Israel. But until Friday, all were intercepted by either Israel or

Western allies with forces stationed in the region. The Houthis claimed their newest drones can bypass Israel's aerial defense systems. However, an Israeli military official on Friday that the explosive-laden drone had been identified on Thursday and attributed the hit to "human error." The strike came a day after Israel's far-right national security minister, Itamar Ben-Gvir, visited Jerusalem's most sensitive holy site on Thursday, a move that threatened negotiations to end the 9-month-old war in Gaza. Hamas' October 7 attack sparked the war when militants stormed into southern Israel, killing some 1,200 people - mostly civilians - and abducting about 250.
